Providing an expert recruitment opinion for your personal injury case

What is an expert recruitment opinion?

Our opinion is guided from years of experience recruiting, an understanding of the needs and requirements of the open labour market and the challenges faced by job seekers, particularly those who are, or who may be disadvantaged due to a personal injury. Our Human Resources professionals have a sound understanding of the legal frameworks in personal injury law and use this knowledge to provide credible, comprehensive reports.

How can it help your case?

We are proud to have worked with many solicitors and barristers, assisting them to finalise personal injury claims, and our reports are often vital resources used to secure these claims.

Why Flexi?

Flexi Personnel has been providing recruitment services since 1992, with our Employment Assessment (EA) team providing reports for the legal industry from 1998. The EA team consists of a number of Human Resources professionals with many years of experience in the selection and recruitment of staff across a variety of industries.

OUR SERVICES

What reports can Flexi Personnel provide?

We tailor our reports to suit the needs of your clients. Some of these reports include:

Employment Assessments

An expert recruitment opinion on your clients' current work capacity, their realistic employment prospects into suitable employment and/or gaining employment in the open labour market, subsequent to an injury.

Earnings Reports

Reports detailing: current potential earnings if your client had not sustained an injury; current potential post-injury earnings or wages specific to jobs outlined as suitable employment options.

Review of Vocational Assessments

An expert recruitment opinion on your client's suitability to perform specific roles as outlined by a vocational assessment.

Total Permanent Disability Reports

An Employment Assessment with the consideration of the relevant insurer policy definitions regarding gainful employment within set time frames.
